WEEKEND PICKS

DECEMBER 23, 2015 · Lei Chic's guide to the weekend's best events.

Attend: Run For It

What: You just spent a whole week of shopping, baking, eating sweets, opening presents and generally being as consumerist and gluttonous as you could. Hey, it's Christmas! No judgments. But, maybe this is a good time to throw in an event for a good cause this weekend? Here's your chance: The Water For the World Run is happening on Saturday and raises awareness about global access to clean water. The short, 5K course is a scenic route around Kapi'olani Park that ends with a finish line and—get this!—150-foot water slide.

When: Saturday, Dec. 26, 8 a.m.

Where: 2805 Monsarrat Ave.

Details: Call 785-5400 for more information.

December is Here!

This month, we're all about local chocolate, from the farmers who grow it to the chocolatiers and chefs who whip it into the tastiest desserts in town. Plus:

- How one local woman helped spark a national movement toward legalizing same-sex marriage. (p. 68)
- From messenger to top lawyer, Judy Tanaka's unexpected rise to that coveted corner office. (p. 74)
- Who you gonna call? 366 of the best lawyers in Hawai'i. (p. 80)
